DEVELOPMENT FINANCE

UXOLO WASHINGTON 2022

Mobilising Private Capital

Allen & Overy Conference Suite
1101 New York Ave NW, Washington DC, USA

21 APRIL 2022

Join the global development finance community in Washington on 21st April 2022 for an all-new HYBRID event experience, as we shake things up and discuss the mobilisation of private capital investment!

Uxolo Washington 2022 is a completely unique and innovative hybrid event, providing the development and impact finance communities with a platform to unite for a day of networking and thought leadership debate focusing on the common objectives of expanding the project pipeline and mobilising private capital investment into climate, infrastructure and development finance projects.

We will be gathering DFIs, private investors, commercial banks, government agencies and industry service providers at Allen & Overy's conference suite in DC for a unique event that is a must-attend for senior development finance industry practitioners!

STATUS REPORT: GLOBAL PRIVATE INFRASTRUCTURE INVESTMENT

With a purview of both developed and emerging economies, and special attention to ESG integration and Covid-19 impacts, GI Hub's recently published Infrastructure Monitor 2021 report provides data and critical insights for investors on the state of global infrastructure investments - an invaluable tool to inform investment decisions. In this session, we will hear about where private capital is flowing for infrastructure, performance across regions and sectors, and developments in ESG considerations and green private investment. This is not one to be missed

Uxolo Global 2022: Development & Impact Finance

Hybrid Event: The Hague & Online

Oct 11, 2022

In partnership with the GIIN Investor Forum

Bringing its unique approach to delivering conferences, Uxolo Global 2022: Development & Impact Finance - The HYBRID edition, is set to be the largest, most innovative networking event in development finance. Join the industry on 11th October in The Hague as we theorise how the industry can mobilise large-scale private capital investment in climate, infrastructure and development finance projects.

Mobilising private capital into global development projects supporting the 17 Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) is of course a key priority for the MDBs & DFIs; and to help facilitate these blended finance structures we are delighted to be partnering with the Global Impact Investing Network's GIIN Investor Forum, which is taking place on the 12th & 13th October (after Uxolo Global), also in The Hague.

The partnership of these two events side by side is the perfect way to capitalise on networking opportunities between public and private capital during this period; with Uxolo bringing public institutions and The GIIN bringing private impact investors to the blended finance party. It's a match made in heaven, and we cannot wait for you to be a part of it!
